A pause in the recent gentle rains cleared the air and allowed the sun, as in an impressionist painting, to make the raindrops sparkle on the windshield through which this picture was taken at the foot of Ocean Avenue. The week has been a particularly heady one, the air fragrant with fresh-washed pine needles, the days bright and brisk.

$500 Painting Is Art Group Prize

The Carmel Art Association has selected Nov. 16 as the day it will announce the winner of a $500 painting as the prize in a fund-raising drive now in progress.

The drawing is being conducted to establish a $1000 art scholarship to be awarded to an art major high school graduate.

The art association, oldest on the Monterey Peninsula, is offering the scholarship as a gesture of returning to the community some of the commercial assets that it feels are draining away.

Members and associate members of the Carmel art group have been selling tickets for the drawing, for which the prize is any $500 painting by any artist in the association's gallery.

Outstanding art students from high schools on the Monterey Peninsula and Salinas will be recommended by their school's department, and the board of directors of the Art Association will pick the student to receive the scholarship from the list submitted.

Tickets may still be purchased for $1 at the Carmel Art Association, on Dolores between 5th and 6th.

Dollar Strong Says Expert

About 80 members of the World Affairs Council met for luncheon at the La Playa Hotel Wednesday to hear J. Howard Craven, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank, San Francisco, speak on "Gold and the Dollar."

Using charts and transparencies, Craven showed graphically the loss of gold compared with the rise of imports. Foreign investment, he said, in our country amounts to 60 billion dollars, however this is held for long term earnings, not for convertibility to gold.

U.S. gold stock is 30 per cent of the world total.

Imports, he said, are paid for by U.S. exports of which we have a very large surplus. We have large claims on foreign investments within the Common Market area.

The purchasing power of the dollar gives gold its value, he said. The real value of gold is low. Only currency deposits are earning interest, because they are invested. Frederick Jandrey, president, introduced the speaker.

Lot Size, Access To Flanders Property Stumps City Planners

by Gunnar Norberg

What was it that the people of Carmel wanted to see done with the 15 acres of property known as the Flanders estate? And how could the wishes of the City and the rights of the Flanders estate heirs, find common ground? And what effect would all this have on Carmel, now and in the future? Those were questions to which the Carmel Planning Commission addressed itself during most of yesterday afternoon's long meeting, and they were questions to which varied answers were given by articulate members of a greatly interested audience, before Planning Commission Chairman Fred Keeble continued the Flanders subdivision matter to a special adjourned meeting of the Commission, to be held at 4 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 31.

Castles In Sand Contest Sunday

The 1968 Great Sand Castle Contest of Carmel will be held this Sunday, Oct. 20 on the south end of the Carmel Beach at the base of 13th Street.

Requirements for participation are simply a bucket, a shovel, an unlimited amount of energy and whatever imagination you can muster. A select group of judges will, as usual, disregard the age and competence of the competitors and rely only on personal fancy for the selection of the winners.

Participants will be registered by the Sand Marshals at 1:00 in the afternoon and judging will begin at 2:00.

The Great Sand Castle Contest is sponsored by the Monterey Bay Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and should prove to be a fine day at the beach.

General Information

Novice Sand Pile — 25 awards.

Advanced Sand Box — 15 awards.

One Grand Prize.

Seventh annual Great Sand Castle Contest of Carmel.

More than 200 entries are expected.

People of any age may enter.

No entry fee, etc.

No experience or qualifications required.

No rules except—don't dig holes deep enough to hurt anybody should they fall in or trip, and the use of motorized equipment on the Carmel Beach requires a city permit.

Please leave dogs at home or keep them on a tight leash—they can destroy several hours work in two seconds.

Please remove everything from the beach—everything you brought with you.

The contest is designed for the participant and not necessarily for the observer—it's just for fun.

Donald Brown, architect, will play Grand Sand Marshal for the sixth year.

Joyce Stevens, the Peninsula's only lady architect, will be at the information desk at the base of 13th Street on the beach.

Sand Marshals will be Gene Takigawa, Richard Rhodes, Ken Walker, Marvin Guillermo and Wes Hessler. The marshals prepare the awards and on the day of the contest, register the entries at the site of the project.

Key to eventual solution of the lot-size formula around which much of yesterday's discussion revolved seemed to be a suggestion contained in a letter from Assistant County Planning Director Mel Bakeman, who pointed out that lot sizes in the adjacent Hatton Fields area, just outside city limits, were "20,000 square feet and up," and that therefore an appropriate "transition" size lot, between that size and the city's 4,000-sq.-ft. lot formula, seemed to be required.

And that seemed to be the nub of the problem. What would be the right lot-size minimum, particularly considering the steep terrain of much of the Flanders property? How could the sylvan character of the area be saved?

Admiral C. W. Fisher, head of the Carmel Citizens' Committee, said "the desirable objective would be 30 residences on this property."

Since two of the 15 acres involved already are subject to a one-acre-minimum lot size, and since other parts of the property have extremely steep grades requiring large lot sizes, the limitation to a maximum of 30 building sites, would probably compel a minimum lot-size of at least 12,000 sq. ft.

This is just twice the 6,000-square-foot size used as a minimum in the second of two tentative development plans submitted by Gordon Hall on behalf of the Flanders estate heirs.

In making his argument for much larger lot sizes and for far fewer homesites, Admiral Fisher stressed the importance of retaining as much as possible of the park-like character of the area—an argument phrased in another way by Mrs. Ken Kraft, who said future "crocodile tears would not save a single great oak or pine."

'Star Spangled Girl' to Open At Studio Theatre Oct. 25

Repeating last fall, it's again Neil Simon back-to-back at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel as "The Star-Spangled Girl," opening Oct. 25, follows "Come Blow Your Horn" on the Dolores St. stage.

This time Simon employs

Bill Jackson to Top Sales Group

Carmel's popular representative of the Sun Life Assurance Company William S. Jackson, has been made a member of the company's prestigious Million Dollar Round Table.

Jackson placed into force $1,312,000 in new life insurance and annuities through September of this year.

This award, along with the National Quality Award he won previously, places Bill Jackson among the top ten Sun Life producers in the Western United States.

Sun Life is a Canadian mutual company with headquarters in Montreal.

his inimitable style of humor to portray what happens to two young intellectuals, Andy and Norman, whose single-minded devotion is issuance of a protest magazine for the sole purpose of the 100% Americanism of beautiful Olympic swimmer Sophie Rauschmeyer when she moves in next door and denounces them as subversives.

Things go from bad to worse after Andy talks Sophie into a job on the magazine for the sole purpose of keeping the infatuated Norman at his typewriter and she proceeds to fall for the wrong man. In the end, "The Star-Spangled Girl" proves anew that nature abhors a triangle and the curtain descends on a happy solution.

The most recent Neil Simon comedy to be released for non-professional production, "The Star-Spangled Girl" opened on Broadway less than two years ago with a cast of Anthony Perkins, Richard Benjamin and Connie Stevens. Under the direction of Dave Kirk, it will run at the Studio from October 25 through mid-December.

On Sunday nights only during this production, the Studio will experiment with a 7:30 p.m. curtain and dinner will be correspondingly earlier. The Friday and Saturday curtain time remains unchanged at 8:30. Reservations may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Former Tuck Box Owner Dies

Mrs. Elsie Grandfield, who with her husband, the late John W. Grandfield, owned and operated The Tuck Box on Dolores from 1946 to 1959, died on Sunday.

Born in London, England in 1891, she had lived in Carmel for 22 years. Following retirement, she and her husband traveled abroad. His death occurred in 1966, after which she lived with her daughter, Mrs. Joan Shirley in Carmel.

She is also survived by two sons, L. John Grandfield and Charles W. Grandfield, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Rev. David S. Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church officiated at services yesterday.

Vet Board Meets

The next regular meeting of the California Veterans Board will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 18, in the USO Building at Webster and El Estero Streets, Monterey.

George G. Sinopoli, chairman of the seven-man board which sets policy for the Department of Veterans Affairs, urges as many veterans as possible to attend the session.

"These meetings are held for veterans all over the state, and we encourage full attendance wherever we meet," Sinopoli stated.

Gymkhana at Saddle Club

The Carmel Valley Trail & Saddle Club will hold its annual fall Gymkhana Show at the club grounds on East Garzas Road in Carmel Valley on Sunday, Oct. 20 (rain date, Oct. 27).

Starting time is at 9 a.m.

There will be two age groups: 17 and under and 18 and over with trophies for first and ribbons to fifth. There will be a high point trophy for the day in each age group.

Aside from the regular gymkhana events, there will be an "inside the arena race," "trailer loading," "flag race," and many others.

At the noon lunch break, two polo teams from the Point Lobos Riding and Polo Club will play, under the direction of Sue Sally Hale. The games will be announced and play described.

There are entry blanks at the following stores: The Farm Center and the Hayloft in Carmel Valley and Scott's Silver and Leather Shop in Carmel. For further information, write Evelyn Zoellin, show secretary Box 521, Carmel Valley.

A gymkhana is a meet featuring sports contests. In this case, horseback.

This is an especially appealing show for spectators. The events are all timed, moved quickly and have exciting finishes.

I'M FOR MAX!

Senator Murphy says ...

"I know Max Rafferty personally as a man of integrity, courage and intelligence. Some three million Californians demonstrated their vote of confidence for the job Max Rafferty has done in education for our state when they re-elected him as Superintendent of Public Instruction in 1966.

"He is concerned, as I am, how the world's greatest nation can be torn by riots, crime and irresponsibility by such a small percentage of our total population. Max Rafferty believes, as I do, that the freedom and strength of our nation did not just happen. Millions have been killed during the past 192 years in bringing about this strength and freedom we all enjoy. Max Rafferty will be a Senator who has the guts to stand up and speak out against that small number among us who seek to destroy our great heritage."

White Oaks Charity 'Bid-A-Long' Auction Oct. 25

Some $11,000 in exciting merchandise and services will be on display at the gala silent auction and champagne cocktail party called the "Bid-A-Long" to be held at the Outrigger on Cannery Row from 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 25.

All proceeds from the event, sponsored by the White Oaks Theatre Guild, will benefit the White Oaks Theatre, a non-profit theatre training center in Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Gilbert Craig, ticket chairman, may be contacted for advance reservations at 625-4543. Tickets (not to be sold at the door) are also available at Derek Rayne's in Carmel.

Interest in the unique White Oaks Theatre has generated a wealth of gifts for the auction from merchants on the Peninsula and from businessmen all over the State. Up for auction will be everything from a $100 lithograph by Emile Norman of Carmel to a $25 "E" Bond from Carmel's Bank of America, or unusual services such as a chartered flight on one of Del Monte Aviation's new Cessnas to the Nut Tree for three for lunch, or a wedding reception or party at Lou's Casa Carmela in Carmel Valley.

Gourmet dinners and travel include dinners at Rocky Point Restaurant, Carmel Valley Inn, The Village Inn in Carmel, Los Laureles Lodge, The Mission Ranch, The Jolly Rogue or the new Sardine Factory in Cannery Row or a weekend at the Casa Munras.

Zane Speiser, Carmel Valley artist, designed the stunning psychedelic poster displayed by many Carmel businesses describing the Bid-A-Long. Cork N' Bottle and Will's Fargo Restaurant have donated champagne for the event, Bid-A-Long chairman, Mrs. Frank C. Crispo, has as her committee Mrs. Mel Blevens, posters and art work; Mrs. John Pomeroy II, publicity; Mrs. Gilbert Craig, tickets and printing; Mrs. W. Montgomery Jones and Mrs. Stephen Thigpen, catalogue; Mrs. Clive Rayne, hospitality; Mrs. Leon Mink, mailing; Mrs. Roy Kaminske, correspondence; Mel Blevens, finance; Gilbert Craig, transportation, and Yvonne Leslie and V. Van Woerkom, display.

Aerosol Sniffing Fatal Thrill

A dangerous gas-sniffing fad is believed to have caused nine deaths in recent months, and another nine fatalities are under intense investigation, State Health Director Louis F. Saylor said today.

All of the victims were teen-agers or in their early twenties.

Youngsters seeking a form of chemical intoxication or "high" are spraying the pressurized contents of household aerosol containers into balloons, plastic or paper bags, then inhaling the fluorocarbon propellant, Dr. Saylor said. How death occurs is not completely understood but he emphasized the extreme danger of inhaling fluorocarbon mixtures in amounts sufficient to cause intoxication. These gases act much like anesthetics — such as ether — and may cause the body to react violently, Dr. Saylor explained.

Aerosol cans are commonly used for hair sprays, non-stick kitchen utensil coatings, cocktail glass chillers, and many other domestic and commercial purposes. Some two billion cans of products containing fluorocarbon gas propellant are sold yearly in the United States.

Yoga Meditations At MPC Tonight

Jerome W. Jarvis, a disciple of Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, will lecture on "Transcendental Meditation" Thursday, Oct. 17, and Monday, Nov. 4, at Monterey Peninsula College.

He will speak at 8 p.m. on each occasion in the National Guard Armory at MPC. Admission will be payable at the door.

Director of the Students' International Meditation Society with headquarters in Los Angeles, Jarvis was trained by Maharishi at the International Academy of Meditation in the Himalayas, India.

Palo Colorado Seeks Help

A letter was mailed last week to the more than 1600 people who signed the petition to the Carmel School Board to reconsider the fate of the small Palo Colorado Canyon school recently closed, asking them to donate a small sum to tide them over a difficult time.

The group is seeking to incorporate so that it can open its own non-profit school for grades one through six.

In the meantime classes are being held at the home of Mrs. Alexandra Connell. Paul Cohen, a teacher credentialer by the State of California, is assisted by parents of his pupils.

Money is needed for teacher salaries, books and other items.

Housing Topic of LWV Luncheon

Mrs. Helen Cowan Wood of Carmel was moderator at the recent panel meeting of the League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula.

Introducing the League's new national study on "support of equal opportunity for housing," a large turnout of 200 members and guests heard a panel which consisted of Housing Authority Lease Negotiator, Henry Wilson; Legal Aid Society Directing Attorney Mrs. Jane H. Van Hook, MP School District Board of Trustees President Dr. Robert Black and Human Relations Commission chairman Sherman Smith.

Vera Jackson Art, PG & E Cookery, At Town House

The October art exhibit of Carmel Foundation features the oils, enamels on copper, class mosaics and free forms done by Vera Jackson.

The Foundation will honor the artist with a tea today from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Town House, where the exhibition is on display.

On Wednesday, Oct. 23, the Foundation will act as the host for a demonstration of portable appliances sponsored by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., and featuring Mrs. Gloria Pieretti, the company's home economist.

The demonstration is entitled "When Autumn Leaves Fall," and will feature a Halloween motif, with demonstrations of Ham with Orange Glaze, Kitty Kat Cup Cakes and other items smacking of harvest and witches.

Talcott Group Will Host Oct. 25

The Burt L. Talcott Area Committee and the Carmel Republican Women's Club will act as joint hostesses for a meeting at the La Playa Hotel on Friday, Oct. 25.

The coffee will begin at 10 a.m. and last until noon, and the public is cordially invited to attend this free event.

Chief planner for the rally to support the candidacy of Burt Talcott for reelection to Congress is Mrs. Kenneth Macpherson, president of the Carmel Republican group.

Other members of her staff include Mesdames Steven H. Sassoon, E. C. Cronwall, C. W. Fisher, William A. Sanford, Frederick O. Capphen, John E. Rennels and Douglas Brown.

Talcott, running on both the Republican and Democratic tickets for Congress, is unopposed.

Planned Parenthood Leaders Meet Here

Del Monte Lodge was the meeting place for several international leaders in the field of planned parenthood last week. They discussed the ever growing problem of feeding the rapidly doubling population.

Much of the turmoil in the world today, they believe, is a direct result of the population explosion.

Harold W. Bostrom, founder of the Victor-Bostrom Fund, a major contributor to the planned parenthood programs was one of those present. The Victor-Bostrom Fund grew out of the Victor Fund, willed by the late Alexander Victor of Carmel who left his entire life savings of $150,000 a few years ago to the dissemination of birth control information.

Victor was a famous inventor and friend of Thomas Edison and planned parenthood pioneer Margart Sanger.

Others participating were Sir Colville Deverel, secretary-general of the International Planned Parenthood Federation, London, and William H. Draper Jr. of Washington, D.C., a retired general and U.S. chairman of IPPF.

Draper, longtime friend of Samuel F. B. Morse, and Sir Colville are traveling the U.S. to raise money for IPPF endeavors.

Resident Scholar Speaks at MPC

"There is something wrong with our priorities when we spend 20 to 30 billions on space when we have ghettos, air and water pollution and other such problems," said S. P. R. Charter, ecologist, at the first of the Fall Lecture Series at Monterey Peninsula College last Friday.

Introduced by DeForest Sweeney, chairman of the English department, he spoke of the changing concepts of family and community in which death and destruction is the daily diet.

"You need to show the young by demonstration the realities of value, dignity and honor," said the ecologist in discussing the alienation of today's youth.

Charter visited classes and talked with students during his week at the campus.

Rotarians Hear MPC's Faul

The Carmel Rotary Club, meeting for lunch at the Del Mesa Carmel, heard Monterey Peninsula College President Dr. George J. Faul tell the group how the community college actually serves the community in which it is located, and MPC in particular.

Faul, a member of the Monterey Rotary, came to MPC from Contra Costa College in Southern California, and is himself a product of the California Junior College system, graduating from Santa Ana J.C. in 1938.

Next week Carmel Rotarians will hear Sgt. Roger Chatterton of the Monterey Sub-station of Sheriff's office, who will describe the activities of the sheriff's rescue team.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

Can you guess what THE BIGGEST HOUSE IN THE WORLD, by Leo Lionni is about?

A snail, of course.

A snail tells his father that he wants to have the biggest house in the world when he grows up. So the father tells him a story about a little snail who wanted the same thing. He twisted and twitched and discovered how to make his house grow. It soon became as big as a melon; then he learned to grow large pointed bulges. It was so beautiful that some butterflies overhead thought it was a cathedral.

But the time came when the rest of the snails moved on to another cabbage, but the snail with the beautiful house could not move. He was left behind, and slowly he faded away.

So the little snail with the wise father decided he would keep his house small and go wherever he pleased. And he was very happy.

The story is succinct, the illustrations gay and colorful.

And it is by the author of FREDERICK, a poetic mouse who stores up warmth and beauty for the long winter months. This new one should be a winner.

For a change of pace, try THE CHAS. ADDAMS MOTHER GOOSE. In this one, when Humpty Dumpty falls off the wall, the egg cracks and a small prehistoric animal is inside. It is full of charming Chas. Addams characters to illustrate some of the favorite Mother Goose rhymes.

SPECTACLES, by Ellen Raskin will be funny to the nearsighted, as well as the clear-sighted. All sorts of peculiar things happen to Iris Fogel.

A fire-breathing dragon becomes Great-Aunt Fanny; a fuzzy green caterpillar is Iris' class lined up in little chairs. ("Where? the teacher shrieked").

Finally Iris' mother takes her to a blue elephant who turns out to be an eye doctor, and who says "Iris needs glasses." And so Iris sees things as they are. She says: "You see, everything looks like I suppose it's supposed to look, except for that red rhinoceros with a tulip in its ear." (She has slipped her glasses off for a moment.) Don't miss this one.

Moving along out of the picture books, ANN AURELIA AND DOROTHY, by Natalie Carlson is an imaginative and underplayed story about an interracial friendship. The story is not about race, that just happens.

The girls know when they first meet that they are going to be friends.

Ann Aurelia has a foster mother because her own mother remarried and went away. When she returns, alone, the girl must decide whether to stay with Mrs. Hicken or go with her mother. She talks the problem over with her friend Dorothy, after saying to her that grownups are always full of reasons for everything.

"I haven't got any reasons, A. A. . . I just think you should go back because she's your real, honest mother." The girls are delightful and the illustrations match the mood of the story.

Dorian Quintet Opens Concert Season

The Monterey Peninsula Concert Association will present the Dorian Quintet on Saturday evening, October 19th, 8:15 p.m., in the auditorium of the Pacific Grove Junior High School.

Founded at Tanglewood in 1961 under the auspices of the Fromm Foundation, the Dorian Quintet made its New York debut in that year, and has become a major contributor to chamber music in the United States. During European visits the Quintet divided its time between concerts and radio broadcasts in London, Paris, Berlin, Brussels and Vienna. The Quintet participated in the Warsaw Autumn Festival of 1962, and in 1963 made a three-month tour of Africa under the auspices of the Department of State.

Recent concerts have included performances at Yale University, New York's Town Hall, Carnegie Recital Hall and Lincoln Center, where the Quintet was invited to participate in the 1966 Stravinsky Festival. Of seven New York first performances, five were world premieres — in one season.

Members of the Dorian Quintet are Karl Kraber, flute, soloist with the Rome Philharmonic; Charles Kuskin, oboe, member of the Symphony of the Air and the American Symphony Orchestra, and recording artist for Columbia, RCA Victor, Vanguard and Decca; William Lewis, clarinet, graduate of Juilliard and solo clarinetist with Leopold Stokowski's American Symphony; Jane Taylor, bassoon, member of the Symphony of the Air, the American Symphony and the New York City Opera Company, on the faculty of Mannes College; and Barry Jenjamin, French horn, soloist with the Eastman-Rochester Symphony, lecturer on the French horn and teacher of chamber music at Cornell and Yale Universities.

The varied program will include Quintet, Opus 56, in four movements, Franz Danzi; Suite No. 6 in D Minor for Flute, Oboe and Bassoon C. P. Telemann; Kleine Kammermusik, Paul Hindemith; Summer Music for Woodwind Quintet (1957), Samuel Barber; and Trois Pieces breves, Jacques Ibert.

Crown Chamber Players Play at UC Santa Cruz

The Crown Chamber Players who have been heard in Carmel gave their first concert of the year Sunday at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

Members of the Crown Chamber Players are Rosario Mazzeo, clarinet; William Van den Burg, cello; and William Corbett Jones, piano.

Rosario Mazzeo of Carmel Highlands is coordinator of public programs for Crown College.

Cellist William Van den Burg, whose background is European, will serve this year as assistant conductor of the Monterey Symphony orchestra.

Monterey County Symphony Conductor Haymo Taeuber

by Carolyn Elstob

Haymo Taeuber, new director-conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, will appear on the Sunset Auditorium podium for the first time on Tuesday evening for the first concert of the season.

A distinguished musician who has won critical praise across Europe Taeuber's career from his earliest appearances in his native Vienna has been star studded. His roles in the world of great music have been varied indeed.

Before the war Vienna was the world's center of music and Haymo Taeuber, as conductor of the Vienna City Opera; and as guest conductor of the Vienna Symphony gained an enviable reputation.

It was inevitable that engagements as guest conductor of world renowned orchestras followed.

"And then we, my wife, our three children and I traveled half way across the world, to Calgary, Canada . . . the contrasts were multiple and amazing!" As artistic director and conductor of the Calgary Philharmonic the musician remained in Canada for five years.

"And here we are! My wife, my two daughters Christiane who is 13—(she plays the 'cello) Barbara who is 11 years old has chosen the violin as has our nine year old son, Clemens.

"We arrived on Monterey Peninsula, having driven more than 1,600 miles, on our 15th wedding anniversary! We were all very happy and excited as we entered Monterey and nothing would do but a duo celebration to mark our arrival and our anniversary. We lunched on the Old Monterey Wharf!"

Haymo Taeuber and his family are at home now, in Del Monte Forest. The three children are in school. The Symphony's new director of music has many and various responsibilities. In addition to the adult orchestra Taeuber is director of the Youth Orchestra and the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society.

Following Tuesday night's gala concert a reception honoring the new director-conductor and Mrs. Taeuber, hosted by the board of directors of the Monterey Peninsula Symphony Association, will be held in the Carmel Art Association.

Haymo Taeuber, new Symphony Conductor

Symphony Program Something for All

Carmel will be the scene for the American debut of internationally-famous Viennese conductor Haymo Taeuber when he directs the 70-piece Monterey County Symphony Orchestra in their opening concert on October 22nd at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Auditorium.

Maestro Taeuber, who was engaged early this summer to take over the local musical group, has announced an ambitious program.

The new conductor believes a concert program, "should have something for everyone in the audience to enjoy," and has put this philosophy into practice for the opening night performance with the overture to Mozart's "The Magic Flute" serving as the first musical offering of the evening. This will be followed by Beethoven's seldom played "Triple Concerto in C," and the finale features the colorful "Scheherazade" by Rimski-Korsakov.

Guest artists for the "Triple Concerto" will be the widely-acclaimed Francesco Trio comprised of violinist David Abel, cellist Bonnie Hampton, and pianist Nathan Schwartz. They have been performing as a group on the West Coast for the last three years and have won critical plaudits from all areas.

Returning to the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra as guest concertmaster for this first concert is David Schneider, a founding member of the California String Quartet and the San Francisco String Ensemble. He is currently head of the string department at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music.

Of special interest in local music circles is the announcement that William Van den Burg, former assistant to Pablo Casals and Leopold Stokowski, will occupy the principal chair in the cello section and also serve as assistant conductor. This outstanding musician has performed in this area with the Crown Chamber Players and is acting Professor of Music at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

Ticket information can be obtained at the Monterey County Symphony Association office located in Sunset Center or by calling 624-4125.

Members of the Vienna Boys Choir in costume before their presentation of a Mozart opera rehearse with their director, Haymo Taeuber, with whom they toured European capitals.

"One of the happiest periods of my early life was spent with the Vienna Boys Choir. My five years given to training and travelling across Europe with these talented young singers, (10 to 14 years of age) is a story in itself."

Conductor Leonard Bernstein with Mr. and Mrs. Haymo Taeuber.

First Music Society Concert Saturday

Opening the 42nd season of its annual concert series, the Carmel Music Society will present the Oakland Chamber Orchestra under conductor Gerhard Samuel next Saturday evening, October 19. The musical event will be held, as usual at Sunset Auditorium starting at 8:30.

Piano soloist Roy Bogas will highlight the evening's performance, including in his program Mozart's Concerto in C Major. Bogas, a resident of San Francisco, is a brilliant and seasoned pianist who made his first major appearance at the age of fourteen, playing with the San Francisco Symphony under Rudolph Ganz. In 1962 his career took him to Moscow where he achieved world-wide recognition and was acclaimed by Russian audiences and critics alike.

The Oakland Chamber Orchestra in nine years has grown from modest beginnings to a firmly established organization winning national acclaim. Maestro Samuel (also music director for the San Francisco Ballet and the Oakland Symphony Orchestra) is a distinguished musician whose appearances with the Lincoln Center Mozart festival in 1967 (New York's Philharmonic Hall) drew standing ovations. Although considered a Mozart specialist, it is interesting to note that he is a devoted champion of contemporary music and has been one of the first on the West Coast to introduce music of the truly avant-garde.

Concert tickets are on sale at the box office at Friar Tuck Book Store, Mission near 6th, in Carmel. A few season tickets are still available.

Evening Guild Meets for Potluck

Rehabilitation work done with women released from prison was described by Sister Mary Christine, S.S.M. at the evening guild potluck at All Saints' Episcopal Church Monday evening.

She described the house in Boston run by the Foundation of Hope, Inc. where these women may stay until they are started in a new life.

Sister Mary Christine showed slides of the convent in England where the St. Margaret order was founded, and pictures of the several branch convents and hospitals in Boston and Haiti where the nuns minister to the ill and perform other services for the church.

Meet Conductor

A luncheon meeting was held at Community Church of the Peninsula so that the Monterey County Music Teachers might meet Haymo Taeuber, new conductor of the county symphony.

He thinks of himself as a teacher, and thinks it is important that teachers pass along their enthusiasm to the young, reported Marie Oliver, a past president.

Noted Carmel Architect Honored

The 100th anniversary of the birth of Charles Sumner Greene, noted architect who lived in Carmel from 1916 until his death in 1957, was celebrated in Pasadena Saturday.

A library was dedicated to his memory and that of his brother, Henry Mather Greene. The library is in the Gamble House which he designed.

Greene and his brother developed a practice which broke from all prevailing styles of architecture.

"The individual character of their work," according to Makinson, "evolved from a rich and deep study of wood, a love of nature and natural materials. It was expressed in the bold use of heavy timbers, projecting rafters, broad sloping roof lines and overhanging eaves, extensive masonry walls, stained board and batten siding, and the incorporation of the garden into the total design."

About 1917 he designed the Daniel L. James home in Carmel Highlands on the cliff overlooking the ocean, built of rock blasted from the cliff to make the site.

Green designed the monument to World War I soldiers on Ocean Avenue and was active in early planning of Carmel.

He was the father of Thomas Gordon Greene who has returned with his wife to Carmel to remodel the area back of his father's brick studio on Lincoln near 13th where he carved the beams and doors, painted and held musicals in the early days of the Carmel Music Society; Bettie Green who maintained riding stables in Carmel for many years before moving to Pacific Grove, and of Nathaniel Patrickson Green of Monterey who used to live in Carmel, who attended the dedication.

Alliance Francaise Elects Committee

At last week's Alliance dinner the president for the past seven years, Mrs. Bietry-Salinger Carlson, resigned her post. Mrs. Carlson will continue in her favorite role of chairman of the French language scholarship fund and will also offer valuable advice, since the local French Alliance is so close to her heart.

This month's French conversation tea has been changed from Mrs. Theodore Bradley's home on October 25 to Mrs. Francisco Ferro's residence on November 7 at 3 p.m., N.E. corner of 8th and Scenic Drive, Carmel. For reservations telephone the hostess at 624-7495 or Mrs. Leonard McCoy at 372-5449.

Other members elected to the board of governors for 1968-1969 are the following: Co-presidents are Mmes James L. Hathaway and Sean Flavin; vice president is Mrs. John Dowdakin; treasurer is Mrs. Germaine Olivie; secretary is Mrs. Richard Burton; chairman of the French library is Mrs. Sorin Issvoran (the library is open on Thursday afternoons from 2 to 5 at 590 Polk Street, Monterey. Telephone 372-0922); chairman of French conversation teas is Mrs. Leonard McCoy; chairman of French lessons is Mrs. Jack Longfellow (telephone 659-4789); publicity chairman is Mrs. Phyllis Jervey. The committee for social activities consists of Mmes, Theodore Bradley, Hedri Corbat, Claude Courteol, W. G. B. Hatch and John W. Rees.

CONTRAST—Two worlds, two ways of life, are represented by these two Turks. This cameleer, a remnant of the Ottoman Empire, still wears the traditional Asia Minor costume, including the full beard forbidden to be trimmed by the Koran. Small burros and large camels bear incredible loads.

CONTRAST—This adherent to the doctrine of modernization started by Ataturk wears surplus U.S. Army field jacket and fatigue trousers, a woolen cap and, except for a mustache, is clean shaven. Ataturk, almost a god in Turkey, brought his country into the 20th century. The camel wears a light racing saddle and probably the driver's personal possessions are in the burlap sacks hanging from the pommel.

International explorer and photographer Ronald Shanin will appear in person to narrate his award winning feature-length color film "Rivers of Fire and Ice" at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 24 in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium.

The showing is part of the current Explorarama series. Ronald Shanin spent 5½ years in Africa in the production of this film and traveled over 25,000 miles through South Africa, Zambia, Rhodesia, Tanzania, Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda, and the Congo.

The wild animal scenes are reported to be the most graphic ever taken.

to do to suit every taste. Like your climate hot and dry?

Try Anguilla, or the Virgin Islands, or St. Martin, or the tiny Grenadines.

Hot and lush? The Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, Haiti or the Yucatan area of Mexico.

Great beaches? Tops are those on Anguilla, Tobago, Jamaica, Antigua, the booming Barbados and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Food? Martinique, French possession, has a true feeling for fine cooking, as does Guadalupe, another French island.

Sailing? The yacht harbor at Grenada is one of the finest in the world, and the British Virgins also offer incomparable sailing winds.

Calypsos, Mayan civilizations, the Panama Canal, modern Acapulco, a touch of Amsterdam at Curacao . . . oh my yes . . . there's something there for you in the Caribbean.

Carmel Travelers

By Dr. Reuben Johnson

(Dr. Reuben Johnson is giving a series of open lectures at Monterey Peninsula College on his travels during his Sabbatical leave.)

We found that Ataturk is as much a god to the Turkish people as Lenin is to the Russians. In practically every town is a statue of their great leader. During the brief period from 1924 to 1939 Ataturk made great changes and established representative government after centuries of sultan misrule and violence.

Turkey has made remarkable progress since World War II in building roads, upgrading agriculture, and in many other modern improvements. The United States has given a great deal of aid to Turkey since the Truman Doctrine was put into force in 1947.

But vast areas of southern and central Turkey are still very backward, and life goes on with little change from what it was centuries ago.

We entered Turkey from Greece, and drove to Istanbul. Driving in Istanbul is done with a minimum of traffic regulation. It is quite frightening at first, but one soon becomes accustomed to it. It seems that a major concern of everyone who drives in Turkey is to avoid accidents. We heard many frightening tales about persons who had become involved in accidents and especially about foreigners.

From Istanbul we drove to Ankara where we had the good fortune to meet Captain Halit Bugra, who had taken two years of training at the Navy Postgraduate School in Monterey.

From Ankara we drove south for about 300 miles across the central plateau. This area is populated by people who live in mud huts and under most primitive conditions. We left our Volkswagen at customs in Adana while we toured the Middle Eastern countries for a month. At Adana there is a sizeable American military contingent under NATO supervision.

Upon our return to Turkey we traveled several hundred miles along the coast of what used to be known as Asia Minor. Along the coast are ruins of many Roman cities, which have also been occupied by Phoenicians, Hittites and Greeks.

Many of these old cities largely unexplored, and the natives live in the ruins while goats, camels and cattle wander among the pillars and old stone walls.

Tarsus, birthplace of the Apostle Paul, has many interesting historical sites in the vicinity. The Roman ruins at Side bear testimony of a large well-developed city at one time. Several of the Roman cities had stadiums which seated more than 20,000 people.

Caribbean Plans

A small island off the coast of Yucatan where the Gulf Stream warms the water is the destination of the Matt Jenkins at Christmas. They will be joined by the George V. Yates who sails with them in the Stillwater and Monterey Bay Yacht Clubs.

They will don their snorkels and skin diving outfits and take underwater color photographs.

Cozumel Island is a small island with an old town built of Mayan, rather than Mexican architecture.

Next spring they plan to return to the South Pacific where they have a favorite resort, Castaway, on a small island about three hours by schooner from Fiji.

Movie Review

What's So Bad About Feeling Good—A film that explores results of a virus that makes all of New York happy. Government forces try to stamp out this threat to cigarettes, alcohol and drugs.

The Thomas Crown Affair—A millionaire (Steve McQueen) engineers bank robberies for kicks, and Faye Dunaway is assigned to apprehend him.

With Six You Get Eggroll—Dori Day and Brian Keith star in this comedy about a widow with three sons and an English sheepdog and a widower with a daughter and a French poodle.

The High Commissioner—Rod Taylor stars in this drama of intrigue. Christopher Plummer, the High Commissioner of Australia, is attending a London conference when he is charged with murdering his first wife. Taylor, a detective, is dispatched from Australia to bring him back.

Gone With the Wind—Returning to Monterey is this classic American motion picture. It seems unnecessary to state that it is set in the South during and after the Civil War, and that the stars are Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

The Shakiest Gun in the West—Dentist Don Knotts goes west in the 1880's and gets involved with smugglers, bandits, Indians and a beautiful gun-toting girl, in this slapstick western.

Shalako—An off-beat Western is what we have here, including a party of European aristocrats on a hunting safari in New Mexico in the 1880's who bring their own butlers and vintage wines.

Helga—This is a sex education film that is being advertised in such a manner as to indicate that it is erotic and possibly even dirty. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Interlude—lavishly produced story of a sordid romance between an aging symphony conductor and a young girl. Story is similar to "Intermezzo" that starred Leslie Howard and Ingrid Bergman. Oskar Werner is outstanding as the musician.

Custer of the West—Robert Shaw is cast as the unsuccessful general in this spectacular which was originally designed to be projected in Cinerama. Jeffrey Hunter and Ty Hardin play his junior officers.

Heart Is a Lonely Hunter—Alan Arkin's silent eloquence as a deaf mute establishes him as one of the screen's top performers. Sandra Lock is great as a girl who loves him.

Woolcott Model For NPGS Play

One of the most intriguing Broadway productions of the 1930's was built around a true literary giant of the era, Alexander Woolcott.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" uses the character of Woolcott—cantankerous, churlish, insulting and typical of the genius stereotype of the 30's—as a gimmick on which to tie the plot, and portraying the part of Woolcott made Monty Wooley as an actor.

The premise is that a noted drama critic slips, falls and breaks his leg on the sidewalk of an extremely prosaic family, and the comedy revolves around the forced six-month stay of the wheelchair-ridden critic.

The play, excitingly mounted and directed by Carmel's Richard Vreeland, goes on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18 and 19, at the Naval Postgraduate School's King Hall.

Red Layton plays White-side, the drama critic, with Mary Burton as Lorraine and J. C. Hale as Banjo.

Cinema 1 Films At Sunset

Cinema One begins the first program in a series of film classics at the Sunset Center in Carmel on Friday, Oct. 18.

All of the films to be presented are among the great works of international cinema, outstanding for their innovative importance in the development of the film as an art form. "Children of Paradise," written by Jacques Prevert and directed by Marcel Carne, will be shown on Friday.

Unquestionably the best-loved and most famous of the French films of its era, it is a rich, full portrait of 19th century Paris. This is the complete, uncut version, available for the first time in the United States.

Other films in the series will be: "Judex," Mr. Hulot's Holiday" (Oct. 25), "Shoot the Piano Player," and "Thief of Bagdad" (Nov. 1).

Tickets are available in advance from Central Box Office in Carmel and Abinante Music Store in Monterey or at the door, 8 p.m.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"South African Cinema Supper"

The season's second Explorama feature at Sunset Auditorium promises high adventure as the wild animal scenes in "Rivers of Fire and Ice" are the most sensational ever.

On Thursday, Oct. 24 at 8:15 p.m., this exciting safari into places white men had never seen before will be shown. Why not precede the evening's extraordinary entertainment with a genuine South African cinema supper?

We know a British Army officer living in South Africa who tells us that his favorite dish there is Porterhouse Steak a la Zulu.

One places a thick juicy porterhouse between two other steaks of less quality, a koedoe steak on top, a m'pala one on the bottom. The trio is placed over charcoal embers on a grill. When the underneath piece is seared black, the order is reversed; that is the top steak goes to the bottom. When the latter is also scorched, the porterhouse is "just right". Carved in diagonal slices it is brushed with melted butter seasoned with worcestershire, celery, garlic and onion salt plus some fresh lime juice.

Actually this trick was originally attributed to the flamboyant gourmet Chateaubriand. It is such an extravagance now-a-days to throw away those burned up top and bottom steaks that we suggest, instead, these other dishes which our British Colonel has sent us exclusively for Party Plans.

Babotje (Meat Casserole)

Two lbs. minced meat; 1 thick slice bread; 1/4 cup milk; 1 egg; 1 1/2 t. curry powder; 1 T. sugar; 2 eggs, beaten; 1 t. salt; speck of pepper; 14 almonds, blanched and pounded; 1 1/2 T. lemon juice; 2 onions, chopped fine; 2 T. butter; 6 bay, orange or lemon leaves (optional); 1/2 t. salt; 1 1/2 cups milk. Serves 6.

Grind meat, either raw or cooked, such as lamb, beef, pork or ham. Soak bread in milk and beat with fork until creamy. Beat in the egg and add curry powder with seasonings, almond paste and lemon juice. Fry onions in butter until limp. Add to mixture, stir well.

Grease a baking dish and add 3 bay, orange or lemon leaves, if possible, which gives a particular Capetown flavor. Add meat mixture, cover with buttered brown paper, (or foil), until meat is baked at 350 F.

When done, remove paper

Reception for CHS Exchange Student

A reception to meet Miss Grace Lim Yun Khiew of Sabah, East Malaysia, Carmel High School's international scholar, is planned for Thursday evening, Oct. 17 by the Carmel chapter of the American Field Service. It will be held at the Carmel Art Association Galleries, from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m.

David and Goliath

"We got marvelous people in response to our Help Wanted ad in the Pine Cone," a classified advertiser stated. "They fit our description to a T. We go nothing from our ad in a daily paper."

and spread the beaten eggs, milk and salt over top and return to oven until custard is set. Stewed hot tomatoes may be served over the babatje. This dish is of Boer or Dutch origin and is typical of the original settlers of South Africa. With it serve this savory.

Brown Raisin Rice

One cup rice; 1 1/2 cups water; grated rind of 1/4 lemon; 1 inch stick cinnamon, split; 3/4 t. each, turmeric and salt; 3/4 cup raisins; 2 T. butter; 3 T. brown sugar.

Wash rice, put in heavy pan and add water and seasonings. Cover and simmer over low flame 15 minutes. Add raisins and cook until rice is flaky. Melt butter, add sugar and add to rice carefully. Put under broiler briefly. Serves 6.

If you prefer serving plain white steamed rice, then pass the following as an accompaniment:

Uncooked Chutney

One lb. dried apricots; 1 1/2 lbs. onions; 2 hot chilis; powdered ginger; 1 qt. vinegar; 1 lb. pitted dates; 1 1/2 lbs. white sugar; nutmeg, cinnamon; pinch of salt; melted butter.

Soak apricots in vinegar for an hour. Grind drained apricots with onions, chilis and dates. Add sugar, vinegar and a pinch of salt with 2 T. melted butter and powdered ginger, nutmeg and cinnamon to taste. Makes 5 pints.

Dessert in South Africa usually consists of fresh or preserved fruits with tea. Their luscious Capetown gooseberries are large deep berries with very few seeds. Mangoes and pawpaw (papaya), melbos (apricots) and watermelon rind are very popular.

But banana dishes really take the prize. Bananas roasted in their skins over red hot charcoal embers are the easiest to prepare and team with grilled fish, fowl or wild game.

Baked Bananas Pretoria

Six large underripe bananas; 1 cup brandy or rum; 1/2 cup powdered sugar; 1/3 cup melted butter; 1/3 cup confectioner's sugar; lime juice; grated nutmeg. Serves 6.

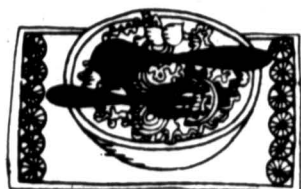

With sharp knife, slit skins of firm bananas lengthwise and remove whole bananas without breaking fruit or skins. Cut bananas crosswise 1 inch apart without separating the slices, leaving fruit in original shape. Mix brandy or rum with sugar and roll fruit in this.

Let stand 30 minutes, covered with mixture. Replace bananas into skins and arrange on fireproof shallow dish with slit in skin at top. Open slits and pour into each some melted butter, powdered sugar and 1 T. brandy mixture. Bake in 375 F. about 30 minutes. Serve piping hot in skins which have turned black. Pour leftover liqueur over these. The skins are eaten also in Africa.

They also make a wonderfully light and fluffy gingerbread by adding freshly grated coconut to basic gingerbread.

With us it is simpler to use one of the fine gingerbread mixes and add dehydrated or thawed frozen grated coconut. Brush top with melted butter, dust with confectioner's sugar and sprinkle with more grated coconut after baking according to package directions. Serve hot.

Folk Singing at All Saints'

Young people of high school age met for a hamburger fry and folk singing, last week at All Saints' Episcopal Church, and formed plans for an overnight camp-out at the Big Sur camp grounds of the church on Oct. 19.

The seventh and eighth grade youth group is meeting on Saturday evening at the church from 8 to 10 p.m. for dancing and other social activities.

A rock band has been rehearsing at the church to supply live music, and membership cards are being sold to help defray the cost of the youth program.

An Ecumenical youth group representing all Carmel churches has been meeting at All Saints', and has chosen the Reverend Arthur Cunningham as moderator and coordinator of youth activities.

Cunningham is assistant rector at All Saints'.

The representatives of the churches have been discussing the continuance of past activities, and Miss Jo Brazzell will continue as advisor of the youth group.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

"The Healing of Hate" is the title of Sunday's program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be heard Sunday morning over station KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45. This program will explain how one can find it really possible to "love his enemies."

Christian Science Sunday Lesson

"Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

This passage from Paul's second letter to the Corinthians in part of the Responsive Reading of this week's Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Doctrine of Atonement." It will be read in all of the denomination's churches this Sunday.

One of the related passages to be read from the denominational textbook is the following: "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and collective. He did life's work alright not only in justice to himself, but in mercy to mortals,—to show them how to do theirs, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

Masters Concert

The following major works will be featured on the Masters Concert during the week of Oct. 17, 1968, over KWAVE-FM (Stereo 96.9), at 8 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 17: Bruckner, Symphony No. 4 (Romantic); Bartok, Concerto for Orchestra.

Friday, Feethoven: Piano Concerto No. 4; Weber, Grand Quintet in B-Flat for Clarinet & Strings.

Monday, Oct. 21: Schubert, Symphony No. 6; Mozart, Serenade No. 7 (Haffner).

Tuesday, Oct. 22: Vaughan Williams, Symphony No. 5; Brahms, Sonata No. 3 Violin & Piano.

Wednesday, Oct. 23: Bruckner, Symphony No. 9; Mozart, Quartet in F. K. 590.

Braille Group In Blind Aid Offer

An organization devoted to furnishing the blind with Braille material is looking for more visually handicapped people to aid.

The Christian Record Braille Foundation, Inc., a non-profit group with home offices in Lincoln, Neb., and a California office in Campbell, produces publications of all kinds in International Braille—the system that permits the blind to read by touch—as well as tapes and records.

At the present time the foundation would like to furnish its assistance to more blind people living on the Monterey Peninsula.

Representatives of the organization visit the blind in their homes, furnishing records and books, as well as a bi-monthly Talking Magazine on tape or records, all without cost.

One of the largest organizations of its kind, the Christian Record Braille Foundation began its free services to the blind in 1899, and since that time has given away more than 13 million pages of Braille material to the blind.

It was the first organization to combine Braille and inkprint to make the "Full-Vision Library" series for blind parents to use with their pre-school sighted children.

All services offered by the organization, including its fight against the glaucoma which affects one million people in the United States, are free.

Interested persons, on behalf of the visually handicapped or for themselves, who would like to avail themselves of the services of the group may write to:

Braille Foundation Inc.,

Campbell, California 95008.

Roy Bogas, of San Francisco, piano soloist with the Oakland and Chamber Orchestra, will appear at Sunset Theater, Saturday, Oct. 19. Gerhard Samuel will conduct. The event is sponsored by the Carmel Music Society.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

Sunset Center will be a busy place this coming week with the opening of three outstanding offerings. Two of them are old friends and neighbors, well tested and true; the third is a newcomer to Carmel called "Cinema One."

Cinema One will present the first in a series of three programs on Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. Barney Oldfield's admirers won't want to miss a real old classic called "Barney Oldfield's Race for Life." This 10-minute chase film by Mack Sennett stars Ford Sterling and Mabel Normand. It has everything—including poor Mabel being tied to the railroad track by the villain.

"Plague Summer" is a 17-minute film based on the Journal of Albion Moonlight in which six characters travel through a war-torn area. Through unusually sensitive drawings and a superb philosophical narrative a very fine mood is achieved.

The third film is called "Children of Paradise." This is a beautifully romantic and sweeping portrait of early 19th century Paris. Directed by Marcel Carne and starring Jean-Louis Barrault, the film develops into a full panorama of the Parisians of that era—their loves and sorrows.

The Carmel Music Society will open its fall season on Oct. 19 at 8:30 p.m. with the presentation of the Oakland Chamber Orchestra under the baton of Gerhard Samuel, with Roy Bogas as piano soloist.

The program will open with Bach's Symphony No. 1 in B Flat Major. This will be followed by Mozart's Piano Concerto in C Major played by Roy Bogas. The final offering is the Symphony No. 29 in A Major by Mozart.

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will open its season on Oct. 22 at 8:30 p.m. under the baton of its new conductor, Haymo Taeuber.

Mr. Taeuber was the director and conductor of the Calgary Philharmonic for five years before joining the County Symphony. He has served as guest conductor of the Vienna Symphony, the Vienna City Opera and as director of the Vienna Boys Choir.

The program will open with the Magic Flute Overture by Mozart. This will be followed by Beethoven's Concerto in C. After intermission, the program will continue with the Scheherazade of Nicolai Rimsky-Korsakoff. Guest artists will be David Abel, Bonnie Hampton and David Schwartz.

Tickets are available at the Central Box Office, Mission & 6th (May Court) 624-6739.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By BARRY NATHAN, 12th Grade Student

New Clubs Organized On Campus

Once again the time needed for studying has eased for many, and students are now finding a need to do something with their extra time.

For this reason, many new clubs and activities have begun around the campus.

The newest club at the Robert Louis Stevenson School is Oversea Student Association. The members come from many foreign countries like North Africa, Guam, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Costa Rica, Brazil, Mexico, Saudi Arabia and others.

The purpose of the club is to get together all of the oversea students (including oversea American citizens), to gain more privileges from the student body, to take part in some international events like the Chinese New Year, and to solve many of their problems being from a foreign country.

The officers of this club include Steven Lueng as president, Hok-yin Leung as vice president and Richard C. Johnson as secretary-treasurer. The faculty advisor is Mr. Brown.

Another popular club on campus is the Rotary sponsored Interact Club, this year advised by Mr. L. W. Robertson.

VICE-PRESIDENT . . . of the Monterey Bay Chapter, American Institute of Architects, Carmel architect Sebastian J. Bordonaro, has just returned from a three-day convention of the California Council of the AIA in San Francisco. Noted speakers discussed the theme topic of the convention, "Views from the Society We Serve," with an accent on the aesthetic values of architecture consistent with economic and business necessities.

It is open to any student who is dedicated to service and understanding on the local and international level.

The officers of this club include Casey Charles as president, Bill Jackson as vice president, Rick Johnson as secretary-treasurer and Tom Gardner as director.

The most selective club, but one which does great good for the school is the Gnomes' Ski Club.

Its purpose is to offer services for various school activities such as Parents' Day, a dance, Spring Bazaar, and to just plain have a fun-loving ski club on campus.

Its members are chosen exclusively by the old members. Current members include Gary Bechtel, Art Lara, Tom Hill, Pete Henderson and Bob Williams. Mr. Ricklets is an honorary member of the club.

For the students interested in amateur radio, the Radio League Stevenson is tailor-made for them. With Chris Baumgart as president, the club hopes to open new dimensions in radio work and broadcasting.

Members include Dave Inks, Chris Baumgart, Jim Henderson, Rick Johnson, John Enders and Clinton Kelly. The faculty advisor is Mr. Barnhill.

The Robert Louis Stevenson Skin and Scuba Diving Club is one of the school clubs that is open to only certain members, mainly those that can dive safely. Its president is Henry Kaiser, and has as its purpose to teach the students to learn to dive, to explore the depths of the seas and to teach others to dive.

A new, very limited club is the RLS Skeet Club. It was set up to allow greater choice of activities and give those who are interested a chance to practice. It has as its advisor Coach Wilson, with Jeff Cooke president, Ken Dillon vice president and Doug Arnstein as the club's business manager.

In an election year, two clubs come to the aid of those interested. The Stevenson Republican Committee was set up to aid the Republican Central Committee of Monterey and generally promote pro-Republican sentiment on campus in this area.

It is open to any interested student, and its officers are Peter Fungsten as president, Brent Lloyd as vice president and Steve Hyde as secretary-treasurer.

The other club is the Winston Churchill Forensic Club, which was set up to perfect the varied talents in the area of speech which will serve us in life. It is available to any member who wishes to join. The president is Lonnie Foy with Mrs. Garrison the club's advisor.

Another club on campus is the RLS Coin Club, started for the purpose of instilling interest in coins.

Its president is Sandy Smith and its advisor is Mr. Keith. This club is open to all students who are interested.

All Saints' Dinner

The All Saints' Episcopal Church Men's Club will hold its fall dinner meeting on Oct. 24, beginning at 6 p.m.

The meeting will feature a steak barbecue for a trifling stipend and George Dietterle, principal of Seaside high school will discuss "Today's Students."

The dinner will be held in the Parish Hall patio, and the public is invited to enjoy the good food, good fellowship and stimulation.

Please phone reservations to 624-3883 by Sunday, Oct. 20.

Tudor Galleries Exhibition—

Shoreline Pattern—Oil by Jack Wilson

Safe Harbor—Oil by Jack Wilson

Good Variety At Tudor Gallery

By Louise Cook

One of the featured artists at Tudor Gallery on Mission Street is Jack Wilson, who lives in Los Gatos. Mr. Wilson's paintings, in oil, of harbors, boats and wharves give a clean, crisp impression. He achieves a good feeling of space and perspective. The paint is laid on with neither a brush nor palette knife but by a method Mr. Wilson has developed using various lengths of metal strips.

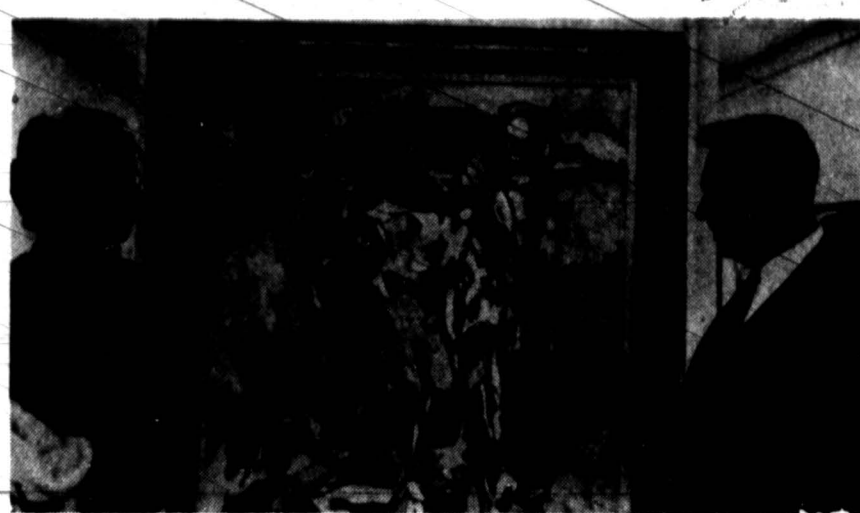

Another of Tudor's artists is Florence Sackett, "painter of redwoods." Her paintings of sunlight filtering through California's mighty Sequoias catch the feeling of awe one experiences when in the presence of these giants. Mrs. Sackett's technical skill, as well as her deep love for the western scene is evidenced in her paintings of the flowering desert, fallen fences as well as forests.

Clem Hall, past president of the California Watercolor Society is represented by several lively gouaches and watercolors of Venice, Paris and London. Mr. Hall did the painting in "Rosemary's Baby" which played an important part in the story.

Flowers painted by Philomeena Cominos are done in delightful colors with care-free abandon. Local artist and teacher, Arthur Trickett, who is experimenting all the time, is also represented by a freely done floral.

OBITUARY

Miss Florence Pharis McIntosh, Carmel Resident for 12 years died at her Carmel Meadows home. Native of New York state in 1893, she was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church, to which contributions may be made in her memory or to Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. David Henry Gill of Monterey Peninsula Country Club admire the prize winner, "Predatory Bird" by Ellwood Graham of Pebble Beach at the recent Artists Preview of paintings by county artists at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art.

Sculptures Honor Great Greeks

The names of 17 of the great creative spirits of ancient Greece are inscribed over the doorways to Monterey Peninsula College's new lecture-forum building.

Redwood fascia beams over each of the four entrances to the building carry the names of great minds of the Greek civilizations.

The carvings are the work of Gordon Newell, Monterey sculptor, and the lettering has been described by MPC Board Chairman Ralph Atkinson, who suggested the names, as "Newell Greek."

Including philosophers, a mathematician, historians, sculptors, a painter, an architect, a dramatist, a statesman and several poets, the names include:

Pythagoras, Thucydides, Praxiteles and Apelles on the east entrance; Ictinus, Aristotle, Apollonius, Diogenes, Phidias, Solon and Thales—west entrance; Homer, Sappho, Socrates and Plato, south entrance; and Euripides, Heraclitus and Herodotus, north entrance.

Carmelites Head Community Chest

"Charity begins at home" is truly an overworked cliché, but it is never truer than when it is applied to the agencies supported by the annual Community Chest drive.

And while the contribution of a small amount of cash suffices most people as a fulfillment of obligation, many Carmel residents are devoting long hours to the 1968 fund drive, and together they form a considerable portion of the campaign personnel for the entire Monterey Peninsula.

Lloyd U. Mayland is campaign chairman. His associate is James Henderson of Pebble Beach.

Dr. Edward H. Wedlake is chairman of the advance gifts division and Gordon Cubbison is chairman of the corporate and personnel division.

Mrs. Stoddard (Patricia) Johnston, of Carmel Meadows is overall residential chairman. She is assisted by Mrs. Rudolf Panholzer, Carmel Highlands area chairman; Mrs. Shirley Thonson, Carmel area chairman; Mrs. John Julian, Pebble Beach area; Mrs. Bruce (Carol) Matson, Carmel Valley.

Bruce Matson of Glen Place, is in charge of New Monterey business solicitation.

Dr. E. P. Marcucci is chairman of Upper Carmel Valley business village drive and David Laing of Mesa Place, chairman of lower Carmel Valley Business solicitations.

Many people in Carmel are served by the agencies supported by Community Chest.

The Visiting Nurse Association, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Handicapped Activities Unlimited, Gateway Center for retarded, Alcoholism Council and the USO for our men in the service are just a few of those organizations that are part of the Community Chest.

RESOLUTION NO. 2539

RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS ON THE PROPOSED SCENIC ROAD ANNEXATION

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-SEA DOES RESOLVE AS FOLLOWS:

1. That, pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, a petition signed by owners of all area and by assessed value as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Monterey, was filed with the Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea requesting annexation of the hereinafter described territory to said City, and that on September 24, 1968, the Local Agency Formation Commission of the County of Monterey approved said proposal.

2. That the territories which the petitioners request be annexed to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea are situated in the County of Monterey, State of California, are contiguous to said City, and are hereby designated as Scenic Road Annex for the purposes of this annexation proceedings, and are described in Exhibit "A", attached hereto.

3. That Wednesday, November 6, 1968, at the hour of 8:00 p.m., in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, County of Monterey, State of California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the City Council of said City and show cause why such territory should not be annexed to said City. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the lot and block number of such property.

4. The City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea is hereby directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published on October 17 and October 24, 1968, in the Carmel Pine Cone.

5. The City Clerk is further directed to mail a copy of this resolution to each owner of land within said area proposed to be annexed and to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

Certification of City Clerk

I, HUGH BAYLESS, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of Resolution No. 2539, which was read and adopted at a Regular Meeting of the said City Council on the 9th day of October, 1968.

I further certify that upon its passage the foregoing Resolution was signed by the Mayor of said City and attested by the City Clerk thereof.

Census Bureau

Information to determine how many children and adults under 35 are enrolled either in school or college will be sought here the week of Oct. 14.

Questions are asked of householders each year at this time to update national figures on enrollment in public, private and special schools, full- and part-time college attendance, the number of high school graduates and dropouts, and the last year of regular schooling for non-high school graduates.

The questions to be asked are in addition to those that the Census Bureau asks each month to obtain data for use by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics in determining national employment figures.

The survey will be taken simultaneously throughout the U.S. from a representative sample of the nation's households. All answers are confidential, and the information obtained will be used for statistical purposes only.

A LUXURIOUS HATTON FIELDS HOME
Situating on a beautifully landscaped, acre, corner lot. There are 3 large bedrooms, 2 baths, plus guest or maid's room and bath. The wood paneled, 29' living room is one of the most charming we've ever seen. A separate, formal dining room, butler's pantry, basement, attic, and more storage space than you'll ever be able to use, all help to make this magnificent, perfectly situated home an outstanding buy at $85,000. Exclusive.

LOT-3 BLOCKS TO P.O.—$12,500
It isn't often we get a lot near town. It isn't often we get a lot priced under $15,000. So, when we get both features in one building site, we figure we have a really salable listing.

OAK STUDDER KNOLL WITH 3-BEDROOM HOUSE
If trees and a feeling of seclusion are to your taste, we think you'll fall in love with this beautifully situated, new, 3-bedroom, 2-bath home. You'll like the low price, too... just $47,500.

CARMEL—2 BEDROOMS, 2 BATHS—$31,000
On a corner near Carmel Mission, very pleasant 2-bedroom, 2-bath, dining room, living room, large laundry room, home in very good condition. Partial brick exterior. Full price just $31,000.

3 BEDROOMS WITH OCEAN VIEW — $47,500
Or 2 bedrooms and den, plus 2 baths. Here's a well-constructed home on a large (1.20 acres) lot at a reasonable price considering the view (Point Lobos, ocean AND mountains) and the excellent neighborhood (Rancho Rio Vista).

COUNTRY GENTLEMAN'S ESTATE

This custom-built California adobe is located just a few miles up the Carmel Valley on over FOUR acres of land, with outstanding views up and across the valley to the mountains. A gracious entry hall leads to the large wood-paneled living room (36'x19') opening onto the front patio. The master bedroom is large with a fireplace and two complete bathrooms. There are also three more bedrooms with baths, one outside in a charming guest house with Franklin stove. In addition there is a spacious dining room with fireplace, breakfast room, a roomy kitchen and service porch. The house abounds in large closets, even a basement for storage. A den-office for the master is conveniently located off the inner sheltered court. If you have a couple of horses and three cars, shelter has been provided.

We do not believe that the property COULD be duplicated today for one-half of the listed price of $125,000. Shown by appointment.

SACRIFICE SALE

Lower Carmel Valley Ranch

During their one year of ownership, the owners of this 2.53-acre ranch have delighted in improving the beautifully landscaped yard, pruning the trees and harvesting the luscious fruit, adding a well and other comforts for their beloved (and spoiled) horses, and making the rambling ranch-type three-bedroom, three-bath home a place of delightful country living. Now, illness forces them to sell. The price, $79,500, covers only their original equity plus major expenditures for improvements and necessary closing costs. They ask no profit and they offer exceptional terms to a qualified buyer. Just a "reasonable down payment" and they will carry the balance at 6%.

In The Valley This Autumn

Let us show you a little adobe on a hill, with a canyon in the back and the Santa Lucias in the front, for only $32,500. . . . Or one of the most original 2-bedroom, 2-bath homes we've ever seen for only $49,500. (This is for people who like unusual designs aimed at very comfortable living.) We have big houses too, and one of the most beautiful contemporary indoor-outdoor homes we've ever seen. This one is almost four acres with white fenced pastures and a wonderful horse set-up.

Down The Coast

And this means with the fine fall surf booming away on your right all the way—we are proud to say we can offer you a fascinating collection of homes. Beginning five miles south of Carmel with a house and guest house right on the ocean edge for $82,500, we can then go on to the Rocky Point Restaurant area where we have two really marvelous view homes on over two acres each, on the ocean side of the highway, at slightly more than $100,000. In the Palo Colorado Canyon we have a remarkable, luxurious, mountain A-frame on six full acres of Sound-of-Music-type landscaping, for only $59,500. Farther down, an octagon perched on a shelf looking down on the sea—something unique and very wonderful—for $89,500. Acreage and even large parcels of speculative land are available, too.

In The Forest

In the Very Best Executive Estates Area of Pebble Beach, we have two very distinguished residences for sale. At $250,000, you not only have a huge, handsome home and guest house on 3 acres, you also have the most fabulous ocean view in the area, looking down into Carmel Bay. See our lovely Mediterranean for just over $90,000, too.

And Building Sites Everywhere!

Ask for our Lot Sampler and explore the possibilities on your own one of these fine Fall days. (And if by chance it is raining when you read this ad, well, that's part of October, too. A lively, happy, unpredictable month!)

Property Taxes Going Up .. Up... Up...

(This is the second of four articles on the Carmel tax structure by Pine Cone writer Gunnar Norberg. The remaining two will appear at weekly intervals).

Certainly, in many cases, its impact is almost wholly unrelated to any recognizable ability to pay. And just how far can the gouging of a so-called 'rich' community for the benefit of an allegedly 'poor' one be justified? And, especially one like the City of Carmel, where there is an unlikely, though easily recognizable, rich-and-poor 'mix'.

Before we try to answer any of those trenchant questions, let's see just what the present 1968-69 over-all tax rate of nearly eight dollars per hundred dollars of assessed valuation, actually covers.

As you may have guessed, the largest portion — 52% of the entire tax rate — covers education of some kind: Carmel Schools, $3.21 (including 31 cents for bond retirement); Monterey College, 70 cents (including 21 cents for bond retirement); County Education Office, 11.8 cents (including 3 cents for special educational projects); and, finally, 12.2 cents for what is called 'equalization school aid offset tax'. And, you ask, just what may that 'equalization' be?

This is a tax imposed by the auditor, according to state law, to extract tax money from 'rich' school districts to give it, eventually, to 'poor' school districts. And this, by the way, is a tax which is rapidly rising. Last year it was 9 cents; the year before, only 3 cents a hundred.

Even if there were some proper reason for this taking from an only supposedly rich Peter, to pay a supposedly poor Paul, the theory and the fact can be poles apart — as they certainly are here in the city of Carmel, where rich-and-poor can so readily be found living side by side.

The hard, inescapable fact is that property taxation was never originally intended, here in the United States, to be so big a fist as it has become, nor one coming down, often so implacably and so indiscriminately, upon the legally prostrated figures of rich and poor alike.

That is also why, belatedly, the state legislature has just made some effort, token though it may be, to relieve even though slightly, some of the most appalling inequities built into the whole system of property taxation as now applied.

But let us return here to what makes up that nearly eight dollars per hundred, which you, the Carmel city taxpayer, will have to start paying in December.

There's an item of 6 cents for county library tax. Other cities which, like Carmel, maintain their own city libraries — Monterey, Pacific Grove, Salinas — do not pay this tax, but the Carmel City Council has never acted to stop this tax, and so it goes on.

This tax will cost Carmel city taxpayers over $15,000. This — along with the $86,000 which the City Council has budgeted for the city library — makes the cost over $100,000 in the 1968-69 fiscal year for library purposes.

Recently the City Council tentatively voted to join in a county-wide library program which is expected — among other things — to lead immediately to loss of some $1600 of usual revenue from library users, and which will, next year, require higher library budgeting.

Experts Differ On Czech Solutions

Lord Harlech, perhaps better known as Sir David Ormsby-Gore when he was British ambassador to the United States, said in his address at Monterey Peninsula College recently that the U. S. should protest the invasion of Czechoslovakia by stopping cultural exchange programs with Soviets and by refusing to entertain Russian diplomats.

Paul Zinner, a specialist in East European affairs, speaking before the World Affairs Council at Brey Hall the same night, said there was nothing we could do considering the underlying posture of our foreign policy. This, he said, was to accept the line of demarcation of the Soviet sphere of influence.

The Soviets have achieved a political and psychological balance of power but they do not want war and have backed down from any military confrontation beyond their borders.

He cited the recent strong words of the Rumanian leaders: "If you cross our borders we will fight."

As it is, world tensions are increased and decreased according to the needs of Russia.

He predicted that Russia will eventually convince itself it must wipe out the nuclear capabilities of Red China.

A large audience filled Brey Hall for the meeting.

Start Planning On Underwater Parks

Initial planning for underwater areas at two state parks, Torrey Pines in San Diego County and Julia Pfeiffer Burns in Monterey County, has been started by the California Department of Parks and Recreation.

The action followed recommendations of the department's advisory committee on underwater parks and reserves, which met in La Jolla September 29.

The advisory board asked the department to plan the underwater units on a multiple use basis, with provision for surfing, skin and scuba diving, angling and spear fishing, and photography and observation, including reserved areas for educational and scientific use.

While fundamentally concerned with the preservation and perpetuation of the marine plant and animal life and geological features, the plan should include full consideration of all users of the areas and their resources, the board emphasized.

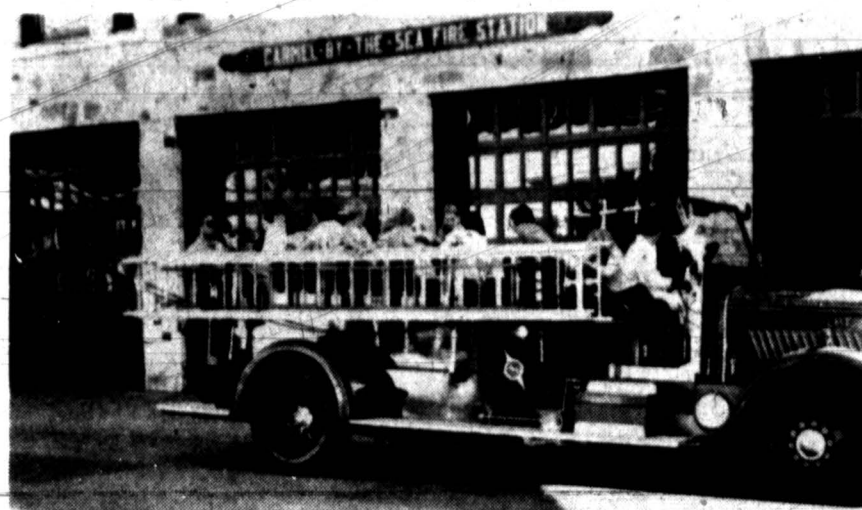

The Julia Pfeiffer Burns underwater area would run from the existing park boundaries out to the 20 fathom depth, approximately one mile offshore. The department was also asked to investigate the feasibility of extending the area north along the coast to include offshore area of Pfeiffer Big Sur State Park as well.

Commission Seeks Bids On Edible Seaweed Bed

The Fish and Game Commission has invited bids for harvest of five tons of edible seaweed with herring eggs attached from Tomales Bay.

The commission, at its October 4 meeting in Sacramento, authorized the experimental harvest of kelp from the east side of the bay.

The commission did not set a minimum royalty, but did require that each bidder post a performance deposit of 10 percent of his bid price, and did reserve the right to refuse any and all bids.

Sealed written bids may be submitted to the executive secretary of the commission until 5 p.m., Friday, October 25.

Planning Commission

Flanders property became the subject of heated comment, most particularly if access were to be by means of an extension eastward of steeply rising 11th street, as shown on the new 62-lot development plan.

Street Superintendent William Askew had said in a report that Mt. View should also be used for access if 11th street were to be involved and that if only one were to be used, then it should be Mt. View rather than 11th. Acting Fire Chief Raleigh Belvail, in another report, also referred to a suggested widening as well as an extension of Mt. View and an opening into Forest avenue.

Two Hatton Fields physicians — Dr. William Lewis and Dr. Charles Snorr — wished to hear from the representative of the heirs as to whether or not the Flanders had been for sale in its entirety for one-family use. Planning Commission Chairman Keeble felt the latter question could be asked directly outside of meeting time.
